No ACP Annual Provider Officer Certification is Required for 2024

November 1, 2024

Some Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP) service providers may have received an automated email from USAC asking them to complete a 2024 ACP Annual Provider Officer Certification. If you received this email, please ignore it. The ACP has ended for now, providers DO NOT need to complete any ACP officer certification for 2024. USAC is working to remove the automated message from the system.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.
